Monte-Carlo, the name the world knows

In 1866 the Spélugues plateau took the name Monte-Carlo in honour of Prince Charles III, who had wanted a casino there to secure the Principality's future. Around the Casino, Charles Garnier's Opera and the Hôtel de Paris, a town within the town was born; Casino Square, pedestrian since 2020, the Boulingrins gardens and the Café de Paris remain its heart.

Monaco's largest and most populous district, Monte-Carlo stretches to the shops of Boulevard des Moulins and the quieter streets of Saint-Michel. Belle Époque buildings, 1970s towers such as the Millefiori and new residences stand side by side: from studios to penthouses, it is the Principality's most active market, where value is judged building by building.

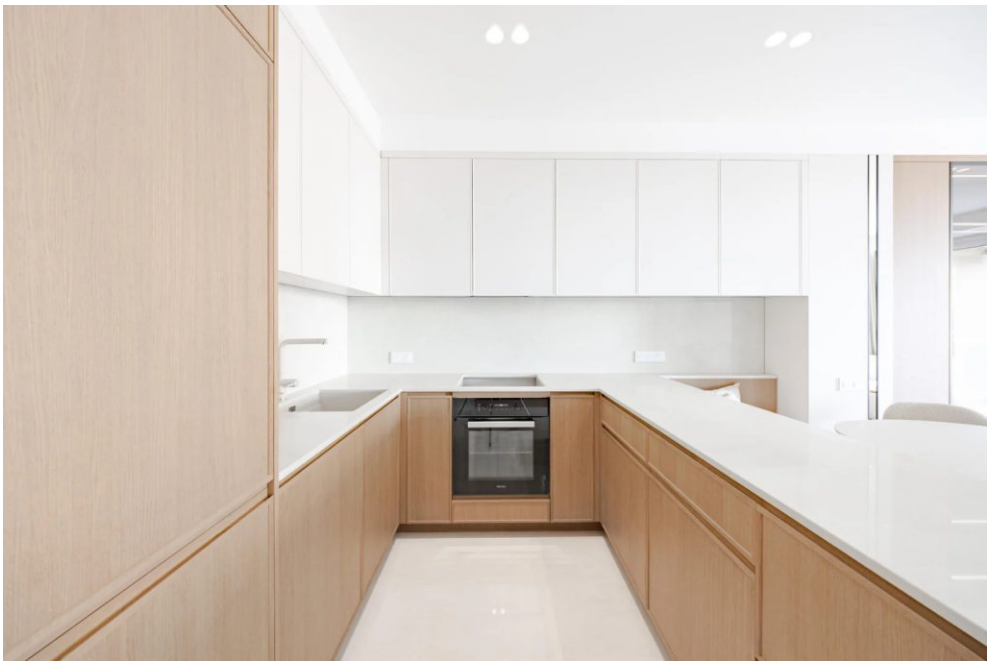

Located in the Grande Bretagne residence , a few steps from the beaches of Larvotto, this fully renovated and furnished 4-room apartment seduces with its generous volumes, its brightness and its high quality services.

Upon entering, you are greeted by a large hall that leads to a spacious living room bathed in natural light, opening onto an 11.7 m² terrace with panoramic sea views. The independent kitchen, modern and fully equipped, completes this elegant and friendly living space.

The apartment offers three comfortable bedrooms, all designed to offer calm and functionality, with plenty of built-in storage. Two refined bathrooms and a guest toilet complete the comfort of this property.

A cellar accompanies this property, providing practical and additional storage space.

A rare property on the market, ideal for a main residence or a luxury pied-à-terre in Monaco.
